

Jan-Hein Lakeman Executive Managing Director OVG Real Estate USA

Jan-Hein Lakeman (1980) is the Executive Managing Director of OVG Real Estate USA. In 2016 he spearheaded OVG's first deal in the US – the retrofit of the 325,000 square feet Unilever North American Headquarters.

Jan-Hein is a company raised OVG veteran, serving in various commercial roles and international management positions during his 12.5-year employment with the company. Prior to his US role Lakeman was a member of the Dutch management team.

Currently, he's building a team that endeavors to push positive, social and environmental change in the US by marshalling innovation, technology and sustainable building practices with constant care for the environment. He received a BSc. in Business Administration from the Rotterdam School of Management, is married, has a daughter and son, and enjoys running marathons.