

Kate Lister President, Global Workplace Analytics

Kate is president of Global Workplace Analytics (GWA), a consulting and research firm that specializes in helping organizations and communities create and communicate the people/planet/profit business case for agile workplace strategies such as mobile work, telework, flexible work, activity-based work, wellness and well-being, and more. Together with a handful of carefully selected and vetted providers, together known as Agile Work Solutions™, GWA can provide beginning to end solutions for agile workplace initiatives.

GWA's research has been cited by hundreds of media outlets including the Harvard Business Review, Wall Street Journal, and Washington Post. She is a frequent speaker at live and virtual events.

Kate has written five business books including Undress For Success—The Naked Truth About Making Money at Home (John Wiley & Sons, 2009), an acclaimed book that encourages employees to negotiate or create their own alternative work options.